3. Overview for People Managers

A manager in Workday is defined as a person with one or more direct reports. Employees logged into Workday with the role of manager or supervisor will have additional security access, applications, and business processes compared to those with the role of employee. These differences will give managers or supervisors access to information about their direct reports, such as the ability to view employee job details; review and approve timesheets and time-off requests; and view their team's time-off calendar, leave balances, etc.

Note: Managers are to make it a point to process all items in their Inbox each workday. Many tasks found there are considered time-sensitive and need to be completed for processes like Payroll to run properly.

5. New Workday Software Releases

With any software, product improvements are provided through what is referred to as a “release”.

- Workday schedules two such releases annually. The first release occurs in March and the second in September.
- With each release, a list of changes to the system is provided with details describing each item. The County will review that list, prioritize the features, and develop a plan to review/test each item. Under certain conditions, the County may decide not to leverage a portion of the newly delivered functionality as it may adversely impact its operations.
- To keep all interested parties in the know a series of communications will be sent out making everyone aware of the release, what it consists of, and what the plan to review and implement it is.
- Several weeks before the production release a copy of our Workday Environment will be created and updated with the new software. This new copy is referred to as the “preview tenant”. This environment is used to familiarize oneself with the new functionality that the software release brings as well as provide an area to test existing functionality and integrations. Key members within the County will be called upon to represent their area and review the updated release of Workday to ensure that the release does not adversely impact the County’s use of the Workday system or any of the systems that integrate with it.
- While the review of the new release takes place, the impacted job aides will also be updated to reflect the new release. If it is deemed necessary, specific training webinars will be developed to cover in detail any of the newly delivered functionality.

6. Tips and Tricks

Workday is a large system that provides a great deal of functionality for many throughout the County. At first blush, it may seem a bit overwhelming, but over time, efficiencies are gained as working with the tool becomes more intuitive. To help jumpstart that comfort level several steps have been taken.

- Job Aids have been written to provide step-by-step instructions on how to accomplish many of the tasks within Workday.
- If the Job Aids do not resolve your issue, please contact your Payroll Rep. If you still have questions that cannot be answered either from a Job Aid or your Payroll Rep, please enter a SuffolkNOW ticket, but only after you have checked the job aids and contacted your Payroll Rep for assistance.
- Periodically, tips and tricks will be sent out via email to provide little-known facts about how to use Workday effectively. Here are two examples:
 - Use search shortcuts: Type a question mark in the search box and then press "Enter" on your keyboard. You'll see a list of search shortcuts you can use to narrow down your search results.
 - You can upload your profile picture using the "Change My Photo" task.
- There is also a Workday - Frequently Asked Question (FAQ) section on the HRMS website where common questions are listed and answered.
- Workday has added Artificial Intelligence technology to its application. This functionality extends the self-service approach that Workday employs. The feature is known as Workday Assistant,  and it enables users to ask questions or type in phrases explaining what they would like to accomplish within Workday. The Workday Assistant will either provide the information requested or the steps needed to perform the requested task.

Note: Depending on the employee's security access within Workday or the built-in capabilities of the Workday Assistant itself, some requests will not be able to be addressed.

Welcome to Workday. Have a great workday!
